

The Intelligencer.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
PUBLISHERS.

JOURNAL, DAILY, WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

TERMS:

By Mail, Postage Free in the United States.
 Daily, One Year, $5 00
 Daily, Six Months, 3 00
 Daily, Three Months, 1 50
 Daily, One Month, 50 Cts.
 Semi-Weekly, One Year, 2 50
 Semi-Weekly, Six Months, 1 50
 Semi-Weekly, Three Months, 1 00
 Semi-Weekly, One Month, 50 Cts.
 Weekly, One Year, 1 00
 Weekly, Six Months, 50 Cts.
 Weekly, Three Months, 30 Cts.
 Weekly, One Month, 10 Cts.

The Daily Intelligencer is Delivered by Carriers in Wheeling and adjacent towns at 16 cents per week.

(Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second class matter.)

WHEELING, JULY 13, 1889.

PERSONS going out of town for the summer can have the DAILY INTELLIGENCER mailed to them for 65 cents per week.
 The address of the paper will be changed as often as desired.

The head trust isn't too heavy to float.

Mr. BLAINE is said to be far from well.

It appears curious that anything the report is not without foundation.

Not the rush for the summer cars these evenings. When the people are attracted they come forward with their money.

The best German pianos are made of American wood with American tools.
 This will not be sweet music to Free Traders.

Is the fiscal year just closed this country brewed 25,300,000 barrels of beer against 16,500,000 in the previous year.
 Yet some men think they are thirsty all the time.

The Water Works fisherman makes the cold chills run up the back. Now, perhaps, less urging will be required to induce the people of Wheeling to boil their drinking water.

Some of John L. Sullivan's admirers are putting him forward for the Democratic nomination for Mayor of Boston.
 There is no April fool for this. New York Democrats sent Prize-fighter John Morrissey to Congress.

It is told that in a recent game of draw poker in Washington Col. Henry Watterson bluffed General Mahone to the tune of several thousands of dollars.
 General Mahone should be a better Protectionist than this would suggest.

KILPATRICK says he "must have another shot at Sullivan," and Mitchell, speaking for himself, says the same. Sullivan, on the other hand, has said that he will fight no more. Kilpatrick and Mitchell may have to content themselves with punching Sullivan's photograph.

Governor LOWAY has made himself a ridiculous conservator of the peace.
 His zeal for the public welfare was born too late. If he had desired to stop the fight he had the whole power of the State to use. Are two prize fighters stronger than the State of Mississippi?

She Married a Count.

The Countess Belloni is in trouble in New York. Six months ago she married Count Belloni against the wish of her father, a Spanish count of large wealth who scented the adventurer in Belloni. The bride had $12,000 in hard cash. This Belloni squandered, pawned her jewels and her clothes, knocked her down in the street, took her home and bent and kicked her, drew a knife and threatened to kill her, and would up stealing the last money she had in the world and making off with it. Still there is many an American girl who would dearly love to wed a titled foreigner.

Congressman William's Voyage of Discovery.

Congressman William L. Wilson, of the Second District, has gone to Europe.
 Mr. Wilson will visit the manufacturing districts, and, when he returns, "will be better prepared than ever," according to the Charleston Free Press, "to dispense in Congressional debate with the antiquary the fact that our manufacturing enterprises depend on the continuance of the enormous tariff rates that now hedge us in."

The Intelligencer wishes Mr. Wilson a pleasant and prosperous voyage. If he can find anything in the old country, particularly in Great Britain, to upset the wisdom of Protection to American Industries, we shall be glad to hear from
 him. We have a distinct recollection of his effort in debate with General Goettie to show that the many in this country are plundered for the benefit of the few.

We remember, also, that Mr. Wilson brought all of his learning and the graces of his oratory to bear on the general proposition that Protection kills. Mr. Wilson scored a handsome failure because he had a bad cause.

If Mr. Wilson will cast aside his prejudices before he lands on the other side, and begin anew to investigate the subject of national economy as applied to the United States, we are quite sure that we shall have the pleasure of receiving him into the fold of Protection when he returns. His reception into the Republican party would follow fast.

Francis Murphy on Prohibition and Temperance.

Francis Murphy has had a good deal of experience in temperance work and may be supposed to know something about it. Here is his view of prohibition in its relation to temperance:

The defeat of prohibition everywhere is a good victory for temperance. Prohibition is a charlatan, fraud and hypocrite. It is an attempt to bring the church and State together again. The people will not permit it. When freedomers band themselves together to get the Legislature to enact laws to regulate the morals of the people they are going counter to the will of God. The sale of whiskey must be restricted, and the man who applies for a license must be well known to be respectable and trustworthy before he is permitted to sell liquor. In truth, the liquor traffic should be in the hands of good men. It is a monstrous paradoxical to say this, but I mean it. A man of judgment and with the right spirit, standing behind a bar, will refuse to sell to a man who is an habitual drunkard. Statutory law does not stop the sale of whiskey, and the best thing that can be done is to regulate and control the sale of whiskey in a legitimate way.
 In Maine whiskey is sold in every town and some prohibition works splendidly in Maine, because the people there know that they can get whiskey whenever they desire it. They are content with the fact that is going on. The law is a dead letter.

It takes two men to commit a crime.

The man who drinks is not going to

The Intelligencer.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
PUBLISHERS.

JOURNAL, DAILY, WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

TERMS:

By Mail, Postage Free in the United States.
 Daily, One Year, $5 00
 Daily, Six Months, 3 00
 Daily, Three Months, 1 50
 Daily, One Month, 50 Cts.
 Semi-Weekly, One Year, 2 50
 Semi-Weekly, Six Months, 1 50
 Semi-Weekly, Three Months, 1 00
 Semi-Weekly, One Month, 50 Cts.
 Weekly, One Year, 1 00
 Weekly, Six Months, 50 Cts.
 Weekly, Three Months, 30 Cts.
 Weekly, One Month, 10 Cts.

The Daily Intelligencer is Delivered by Carriers in Wheeling and adjacent towns at 16
 cents per week.

(Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second class matter.)

WHEELING, JULY 13, 1889.

PERSONS going out of town for the
 summer can have the DAILY INTELLIGENCER
 mailed to them for 65 cents per week.
 The address of the paper will be changed as often as desired.

The head trust isn't too heavy to float.

Mr. BLAINE is said to be far from well.

It appears curious that anything the report is not without foundation.

Not the rush for the summer cars
 these evenings. When the people are attracted they come forward with their money.

The best German pianos are made of American wood with American tools.
 This will not be sweet music to Free Traders.

Is the fiscal year just closed this country brewed 25,300,000 barrels of beer
 against 16,500,000 in the previous year.
 Yet some men think they are thirsty
 all the time.

The Water Works fisherman makes
 the cold chills run up the back. Now, perhaps, less urging will be required
 to induce the people of Wheeling to boil
 their drinking water.

Some of John L. Sullivan's admirers
 are putting him forward for the Democratic nomination for Mayor of Boston.
 There is no April fool for this. New York Democrats sent Prize-fighter John Morrissey to Congress.

It is told that in a recent game of draw poker in Washington Col. Henry Watterson bluffed General Mahone to
 the tune of several thousands of dollars.
 General Mahone should be a better
 Protectionist than this would suggest.

KILPATRICK says he "must have another
 shot at Sullivan," and Mitchell, speaking
 for himself, says the same. Sullivan,
 on the other hand, has said that he will
 fight no more. Kilpatrick and Mitchell
 may have to content themselves with punching Sullivan's photograph.

Governor LOWAY has made himself a ridiculous conservator of the peace.
 His zeal for the public welfare was born
 too late. If he had desired to stop the fight he had the whole power of the State to use. Are two prize fighters stronger than the State of Mississippi?

She Married a Count.

The Countess Belloni is in trouble in New York. Six months ago she married Count Belloni against the wish of her father, a Spanish count of large wealth who scented the adventurer in Belloni. The bride had $12,000 in hard cash. This Belloni squandered, pawned
 her jewels and her clothes, knocked
 her down in the street, took her home
 and bent and kicked her, drew a knife
 and threatened to kill her, and would
 up stealing the last money she had in the world and making off with it. Still there is many an American girl who would dearly love to wed a titled foreigner.

Congressman William's Voyage of Discovery.

Congressman William L. Wilson, of
 the Second District, has gone to Europe.
 Mr. Wilson will visit the manufacturing districts, and, when he returns, "will be better prepared than ever," according to the Charleston Free Press, "to dispense in Congressional debate with the an-
 tiquary the fact that our manufacturing enterprises depend on the continuance of the enormous tariff rates that now hedge
 us in."

The Intelligencer wishes Mr. Wilson
 a pleasant and prosperous voyage. If he can find anything in the old country,
 particularly in Great Britain, to upset
 the wisdom of Protection to American Industries, we shall be glad to hear from
 him. We have a distinct recollection of
 his effort in debate with General Goettie
 to show that the many in this country are plundered for the benefit of the few.

We remember, also, that Mr. Wilson
 brought all of his learning and the graces
 of his oratory to bear on the general proposition that Protection kills. Mr. Wilson scored a handsome failure because he had a bad cause.

If Mr. Wilson will cast aside his prejudices before he lands on the other side,
 and begin anew to investigate the subject of national economy as applied to the United States, we are quite sure that we shall have the pleasure of receiving
 him into the fold of Protection when he returns. His reception into the Republican party would follow fast.

Francis Murphy on Prohibition and Temperance.

Francis Murphy has had a good deal of experience in temperance work and
 may be supposed to know something about it. Here is his view of prohibition
 in its relation to temperance:

The defeat of prohibition everywhere
 is a good victory for temperance. Prohibition is a charlatan, fraud and hypocrite. It is an attempt to bring the church and State together again. The people will not permit it. When freedomers band themselves together to get the Legislature to enact laws to regulate the morals of the people they are going counter to the will of God. The sale of whiskey must be restricted, and the man who applies for a license must be well known to be respectable and trustworthy before he is permitted to sell
 liquor. In truth, the liquor traffic should be in the hands of good men. It is a monstrous paradoxical to say this, but I mean it. A man of judgment and with the right spirit, standing behind a bar,
 will refuse to sell to a man who is an habitual drunkard. Statutory law does not stop the sale of whiskey, and the best thing that can be done is to regulate and
 control the sale of whiskey in a legitimate way.
 In Maine whiskey is sold in every town
 and some prohibition works splendidly in Maine, because the people there know that they can get whiskey whenever they desire it. They are content with the fact that is going on. The law is a dead letter.

It takes two men to commit a crime.

The man who drinks is not going to

The Intelligencer.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
PUBLISHERS.

JOURNAL, DAILY, WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

TERMS:

By Mail, Postage Free in the United States.
 Daily, One Year, $5 00
 Daily, Six Months, 3 00
 Daily, Three Months, 1 50
 Daily, One Month, 50 Cts.
 Semi-Weekly, One Year, 2 50
 Semi-Weekly, Six Months, 1 50
 Semi-Weekly, Three Months, 1 00
 Semi-Weekly, One Month, 50 Cts.
 Weekly, One Year, 1 00
 Weekly, Six Months, 50 Cts.
 Weekly, Three Months, 30 Cts.
 Weekly, One Month, 10 Cts.

The Daily Intelligencer is Delivered by Carriers in Wheeling and adjacent towns at 16
 cents per week.

(Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second class matter.)

WHEELING, JULY 13, 1889.

PERSONS going out of town for the
 summer can have the DAILY INTELLIGENCER
 mailed to them for 65 cents per week.
 The address of the paper will be changed as often as desired.

The head trust isn't too heavy to float.

Mr. BLAINE is said to be far from well.

It appears curious that anything the report is not without foundation.

Not the rush for the summer cars
 these evenings. When the people are attracted they come forward with their money.

The best German pianos are made of American wood with American tools.
 This will not be sweet music to Free Traders.

Is the fiscal year just closed this country brewed 25,300,000 barrels of beer
 against 16,500,000 in the previous year.
 Yet some men think they are thirsty
 all the time.

The Water Works fisherman makes
 the cold chills run up the back. Now, perhaps, less urging will be required
 to induce the people of Wheeling to boil
 their drinking water.

Some of John L. Sullivan's admirers
 are putting him forward for the Democratic nomination for Mayor of Boston.
 There is no April fool for this. New York Democrats sent Prize-fighter John Morrissey to Congress.

It is told that in a recent game of draw poker in Washington Col. Henry Watterson bluffed General Mahone to
 the tune of several thousands of dollars.
 General Mahone should be a better
 Protectionist than this would suggest.

KILPATRICK says he "must have another
 shot at Sullivan," and Mitchell, speaking
 for himself, says the same. Sullivan,
 on the other hand, has said that he will
 fight no more. Kilpatrick and Mitchell
 may have to content themselves with punching Sullivan's photograph.

Governor LOWAY has made himself a ridiculous conservator of the peace.
 His zeal for the public welfare was born
 too late. If he had desired to stop the fight he had the whole power of the State to use. Are two prize fighters stronger than the State of Mississippi?

She Married a Count.

The Countess Belloni is in trouble in New York. Six months ago she married Count Belloni against the wish of her father, a Spanish count of large wealth who scented the adventurer in Belloni. The bride had $12,000 in hard cash. This Belloni squandered, pawned
 her jewels and her clothes, knocked
 her down in the street, took her home
 and bent and kicked her, drew a knife
 and threatened to kill her, and would
 up stealing the last money she had in the world and making off with it. Still there is many an American girl who would dearly love to wed a titled foreigner.

Congressman William's Voyage of Discovery.

Congressman William L. Wilson, of
 the Second District, has gone to Europe.
 Mr. Wilson will visit the manufacturing districts, and, when he returns, "will be better prepared than ever," according to the Charleston Free Press, "to dispense in Congressional debate with the an-
 tiquary the fact that our manufacturing enterprises depend on the continuance of the enormous tariff rates that now hedge
 us in."

The Intelligencer wishes Mr. Wilson
 a pleasant and prosperous voyage. If he can find anything in the old country,
 particularly in Great Britain, to upset
 the wisdom of Protection to American Industries, we shall be glad to hear from
 him. We have a distinct recollection of
 his effort in debate with General Goettie
 to show that the many in this country are plundered for the benefit of the few.

We remember, also, that Mr. Wilson
 brought all of his learning and the graces
 of his oratory to bear on the general proposition that Protection kills. Mr. Wilson scored a handsome failure because he had a bad cause.

If Mr. Wilson will cast aside his prejudices before he lands on the other side,
 and begin anew to investigate the subject of national economy as applied to the United States, we are quite sure that we shall have the pleasure of receiving
 him into the fold of Protection when he returns. His reception into the Republican party would follow fast.

Francis Murphy on Prohibition and Temperance.

Francis Murphy has had a good deal of experience in temperance work and
 may be supposed to know something about it. Here is his view of prohibition
 in its relation to temperance:

The defeat of prohibition everywhere
 is a good victory for temperance. Prohibition is a charlatan, fraud and hypocrite. It is an attempt to bring the church and State together again. The people will not permit it. When freedomers band themselves together to get the Legislature to enact laws to regulate the morals of the people they are going counter to the will of God. The sale
 of whiskey must be restricted, and the man who applies for a license must be well known to be respectable and trustworthy before he is permitted to sell
 liquor. In truth, the liquor traffic should be in the hands of good men. It is a monstrous paradoxical to say this, but I mean it. A man of judgment and with the right spirit, standing behind a bar,
 will refuse to sell to a man who is an habitual drunkard. Statutory law does not stop the sale of whiskey, and the best thing that can be done is to regulate and
 control the sale of whiskey in a legitimate way.
 In Maine whiskey is sold in every town
 and some prohibition works splendidly in Maine, because the people there know that they can get whiskey whenever they desire it. They are content with the fact that is going on. The law is a dead letter.

It takes two men to commit a crime.

The man who drinks is not going to

The Intelligencer.

FREW, CAMPBELL & HART,
PUBLISHERS.

JOURNAL, DAILY, WEEKLY AND WEEKLY.

TERMS:

By Mail, Postage Free in the United States.
 Daily, One Year, $5 00
 Daily, Six Months, 3 00
 Daily, Three Months, 1 50
 Daily, One Month, 50 Cts.
 Semi-Weekly, One Year, 2 50
 Semi-Weekly, Six Months, 1 50
 Semi-Weekly, Three Months, 1 00
 Semi-Weekly, One Month, 50 Cts.
 Weekly, One Year, 1 00
 Weekly, Six Months, 50 Cts.
 Weekly, Three Months, 30 Cts.
 Weekly, One Month, 10 Cts.

The Daily Intelligencer is Delivered by Carriers in Wheeling and adjacent towns at 16
 cents per week.

(Entered at the Postoffice at Wheeling, W. Va., as second class matter.)

WHEELING, JULY 13, 1889.

PERSONS going out of town for the
 summer can have the DAILY INTELLIGENCER
 mailed to them for 65 cents per week.
 The address of the paper will be changed as often as desired.

The head trust isn't too heavy to float.

Mr. BLAINE is said to be far from well.

It appears curious that anything the report is not without foundation.

Not the rush for the summer cars
 these evenings. When the people are attracted they come forward with their money.

The best German pianos are made of American wood with American tools.
 This will not be sweet music to Free Traders.

Is the fiscal year just closed this country brewed 25,300,000 barrels of beer
 against 16,500,000 in the previous year.
 Yet some men think they are thirsty
 all the time.

The Water Works fisherman makes
 the cold chills run up the back. Now, perhaps, less urging will be required
 to induce the people of Wheeling to boil
 their drinking water.

Some of John L. Sullivan's admirers
 are putting him forward for the Democratic nomination for Mayor of Boston.
 There is no April fool for this. New York Democrats sent Prize-fighter John Morrissey to Congress.

It is told that in a recent game of draw poker in Washington Col. Henry Watterson bluffed General Mahone to
 the tune of several thousands of dollars.
 General Mahone should be a better
 Protectionist than this would suggest.

KILPATRICK says he "must have another
 shot at Sullivan," and Mitchell, speaking
 for himself, says the same. Sullivan,
 on the other hand, has said that he will
 fight no more. Kilpatrick and Mitchell
 may have to content themselves with punching Sullivan's photograph.

Governor LOWAY has made himself a ridiculous conservator of the peace.
 His zeal for the public welfare was born
 too late. If he had desired to stop the fight he had the whole power of the State to use. Are two prize fighters stronger than the State of Mississippi?

She Married a Count.

The Countess Belloni is in trouble in New York. Six months ago she married Count Belloni against the wish of her father, a Spanish count of large wealth who scented the adventurer in Belloni. The bride had $12,000 in hard cash. This Belloni squandered, pawned
 her jewels and her clothes, knocked
 her down in the street, took her home
 and bent and kicked her, drew a knife
 and threatened to kill her, and would
 up stealing the last money she had in the world and making off with it. Still there is many an American girl who would dearly love to wed a titled foreigner.

Congressman William's Voyage of Discovery.

Congressman William L. Wilson, of
 the Second District, has gone to Europe.
 Mr. Wilson will visit the manufacturing districts, and, when he returns, "will be better prepared than ever," according to the Charleston Free Press, "to dispense in Congressional debate with the an-
 tiquary the fact that our manufacturing enterprises depend on the continuance of the enormous tariff rates that now hedge
 us in."

The Intelligencer wishes Mr. Wilson
 a pleasant and prosperous voyage. If he can find anything in the old country,
 particularly in Great Britain, to upset
 the wisdom of Protection to American Industries, we shall be glad to hear from
 him. We have a distinct recollection of
 his effort in debate with General Goettie
 to show that the many in this country are plundered for the benefit of the few.

We remember, also, that Mr. Wilson
 brought all of his learning and the graces
 of his oratory to bear on the general proposition that Protection kills. Mr. Wilson scored a handsome failure because he had a bad cause.

If Mr. Wilson will cast aside his prejudices before he lands on the other side,
 and begin anew to investigate the subject of national economy as applied to the United States, we are quite sure that we shall have the pleasure of receiving
 him into the fold of Protection when he returns. His reception into the Republican party would follow fast.

Francis Murphy on Prohibition and Temperance.

Francis Murphy has had a good deal of experience in temperance work and
 may be supposed to know something about it. Here is his view of prohibition
 in its relation to temperance:

The defeat of prohibition everywhere
 is a good victory for temperance. Prohibition is a charlatan, fraud and hypocrite. It is an attempt to bring the church and State together again. The people will not permit it. When freedomers band themselves together to get the Legislature to enact laws to regulate the morals of the people they are going counter to the will of God. The sale
 of whiskey must be restricted, and the man who applies for a license must be well known to be respectable and trustworthy before he is permitted to sell
 liquor. In truth, the liquor traffic should be in the hands of good men. It is a monstrous paradoxical to say this, but I mean it. A man of judgment and with the right spirit, standing behind a bar,
 will refuse to sell to a man who is an habitual drunkard. Statutory law does not stop the sale of whiskey, and the best thing that can be done is to regulate and
 control the sale of whiskey in a legitimate way.
 In Maine whiskey is sold in every town
 and some prohibition works splendidly in Maine, because the people there know that they can get whiskey whenever they desire it. They are content with the fact that is going on. The law is a dead letter.

It takes two men to commit a crime.